$12,000 CHAIRMAN OF WATER BOARD FOR HUGE OUTLAY

Charles Strauss Advocates Proposed Schoharie Deal Before Estimate Body.

Charles Strauss, $12,000-a-year Chairman of the Board of Water Supply, urged the Board of Estimate to-day to spend $22,000,000 for an additional source of water supply by the acquisition of what is known as the Schoharie watershed. It has been pointed out in The Evening World that the construction of another watershed, taking about eight years to finish, would furnish an excuse for the continued existence of the high salaried Water Supply Board.

Chairman Strauss said the city was receiving but 105 gallons of water per capita from all sources, which, he argued, was much below the supply of any other large city, as well as below the minimum of 125 gallons which he declared was a danger mark.

Mr. Strauss explained that with the average increase in population computed at 3 per cent, the city's population would, inside the time necessary to construct the Schoharie watershed, require the additional supply that could be developed now.

Mayor Mitchell pointed out that unless the Catskill aqueduct was used to carry its capacity load the city would have a dead investment of approximately $34,000,000, by reason of having constructed the aqueduct to carry a supply larger than is at present obtainable. The cost to date of the aqueduct is $136,000,000. It was reported and the Schoharie watershed can be developed for $22,000,000, according to the report of the engineers of the Board of Water Supply, or approximately $16,000,000 less than it would cost to develop the Long Island water supply to the same extent.

Henry R. Towne of the Merchants' Association and H. F. J. Porter, representing the Chamber of Commerce, also spoke in favor of a larger source of water supply.

"DYNAMITE JOHNNIE" IS DYING OF LUNG TROUBLE

O'Brien Was First Admiral of Cuban Navy and Exploits Earned Him Fame.

"Dynamite" Johnny O'Brien, first admiral of the Cuban navy, and one of the best known "dare devil" sea captains in this country, is dying at the Hotel McAlpin. Old age and a cold bordering on pneumonia have forced the veteran to remain in bed for the past three weeks.

Capt. O'Brien was born in New York in 1837 and at the age of thirteen ran away to sea. He received the name of "dare devil Johnny" for his masterly manner in guiding boats through Hell Gate. In 1894 he was captain of a schooner that made the trip from New York to Panama with sixty tons of dynamite. Five days out a gale almost sank the schooner. Rather than let his men know what was in the hold, O'Brien by night went down and rearranged the explosive. For this he was termed "Dynamite Johnny."

At the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted and was second in command of the battleship Illinois. O'Brien made his home in Newark until three months ago when he came to New York.

WILLETT A SPECULATOR WHILE IN SING SING, CROPSY CHARGES

Kings County District Attorney Makes Another Statement About Privileges.

District Attorney Cropsy of Kings County gave out to newspaper reporters in Brooklyn to-day a second statement regarding the extraordinary privileges and liberties which, according to Mr. Cropsy, have been allowed to William Willett Jr. during his term in State's prison.

The statement charges that Willett has speculated in Wall Street during his term and was allowed to form a pool among convicts in Sing Sing for Wall Street speculation. It is stated that the District Attorney knows the name of the broker through whom Willett did business and that many of the transactions were in "war bonds."

The District Attorney has written a letter to the Parole Board offering to prove these charges and protesting against the parole of Willett at the end of his minimum term under his indeterminate sentence.

Government Decides to Bring Rockefeller and Others Again Into Court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The Department of Justice has decided to make another effort to convict some of the former directors of the New Haven road of violation of the criminal feature of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. This was set forth in a statement to-day by Attorney General Gregory, which reads:

"As heretofore stated by Mr. Batts, the defendants, with respect to whom the jury disagreed (in New York last Sunday), namely, Lewis Cass Leavard, Edward D. Robbins, William Rockefeller, Charles P. Brooks and Charles M. Pratt, will be retried. "Certain defendants not connected with the affairs of the New Haven Company until 1910, or thereafter, were granted a severance by the court. The prosecution will be dismissed as to them."
